STATE BY STATE INFO

The following pages are crucial in helping concentrate on what states and species you wish to hunt. The markings on these pages are what you will be applied for as the year progresses, so if you are unsure about a certain state or species, please call me at the office. I would love to have a one on one personal consultation to explain the state's draw process, cost, and odds of drawing.

ARIZONA

BONUS POINTS = YES | TAG SURRENDER = YES | FRONT TAG FEE = NO | POINT PURGE = 5 YEARS MINIMUM AGE TO HUNT = 10 (BY START OF HUNT, 10 BY APPLICATION DEADLINE FOR POINTS ONLY)

* Arizona is home to some of the largest mule deer, elk, and desert bighorns in the nation.

Arizona allocates their non-resident tags in a 50/50 split, where 50% of the available tags are issued to the highest point pool which applied, and the other 50% go into a random tag pool. This system allows you the chance to draw a coveted tag, such as an Arizona Strip deer tag on your first year applying. For the trophy hunter, Arizona is a "must-apply-for" state.

PREFERENCE POINTS = YES | TAG SURRENDER = YES | FRONT TAG FEE = YES | POINT PURGE= 10 YEARS MINIMUM AGE TO HUNT = 12 (BY END OF HUNT / 12 YEARS OLD IN CALENDAR YEAR FOR POINTS ONLY)

* Colorado has world-class deer and sheep hunting. More hunt choices than any other western state.

Colorado is a true preference point state; meaning the number of available tags for any given hunt are allocated to the applicants who apply with the highest number points, giving them "preference" above all other applicants. Therefore, Colorado is a state that you can wait to accumulate enough points to draw the hunt you want. All on-line Colorado applications require you to front the tag fees via credit card.

If you apply for deer, and/or elk, and/or antelope, then you can not later apply for sheep, mtn goat, or moose. If you decide to apply for sheep or mtn goat or moose, you have to choose only ONE of the species to apply for. There are no bonus points in Idaho, making it a great state to apply for as you are not behind any point curve. Idaho does make you buy a fairly expensive non-refundable hunting license just to apply. This, however, does make the odds slightly better than most states in the draws.

IOWA

PREFERENCE POINTS = YES | TAG SURRENDER = NO | FRONT TAG FEE = YES | POINT PURGE = NEVER MINIMUM AGE TO HUNT: NO MINIMUM AGE (HUNTER ED REQUIRED FOR ANYONE BORN AFTER JAN-01-1972)

* Iowa is home to some of the largest whitetail in America as well as some of the most turn-key private land hunting found anywhere.

WHITETAIL	Best Units	Trophy Units	Better Odds	Points Only
-----------	------------	--------------	-------------	-------------

The great thing about Iowa is that you can buy a preference point for $50 a year. Once you have accumulated 4 points, you can draw anywhere in the state, any unit and any hunt. The bonus is that your points NEVER PURGE until you draw a tag...making Iowa a state that you can plan for down the road. Example: Buy points for 4 years and sit on them until the year come along that works for you time wise and you are ready to go kill a giant whitetail. I work with the very best outfitters in Iowa so rest assured you will be in for the hunt of a lifetime. Definitely a state everyone needs to be building points for.

* Kansas has more whitetail opportunity than nearly any other western state. There are also some giant mule deer in Kansas as well.

Kansas is a great opportunity state that takes minimal points to put a tag in your pocket. Kansas is comprised mostly of private land, although there are several tracts of walk-in areas open to the public as well. It is strongly advised that you book with an outfitter in Kansas as there are several competent outfitters, all of which I work with and can schedule a hunt a year in advance. The way the mule deer tags are allocated is not ideal and if you are strictly wanting to apply for Kansas mule deer, please call me at the office and I can explain more in detail before you make a decision as to what you want to do. Kansas is a state that is highly recommended to fill the void while waiting to build points in other western states as there is a high percentage of successful tag applicants yearly with zero and minimal points. Kansas is an awesome opportunity state!

PERSONAL KANSAS NOTES / SPECIFIC UNITS / ETC:

PREFERENCE POINTS = NO | TAG SURRENDER = NO | FRONT TAG FEE = NO MINIMUM AGE TO HUNT: NO MINIMUM AGE (HUNTER ED REQUIRED FOR ANYONE BORN AFTER JAN-01-1975)

* Kentucky is a great state to apply for elk as there are more elk in the state than any other state found in the eastern half of the U.S.

The great thing about Kentucky is the fact that there are no bonus or preference points so there is no point curve that you are behind. Everyone is on the same level playing field regardless if it's your first year applying or not. You also do not need to front high tag fees to throw your name in the hat annually. It's a mere $10 for the rifle draw and $10 for the archery draw. If you do draw, the cost of the tag and required hunting license is only $690 total. There are some great outfitters in Kentucky and they are more than reasonably priced. For these reasons, Kentucky is a state you should be applying for if you are wanting to put a tag in your pocket annually.

PERSONAL KENTUCKY NOTES / SPECIFIC UNITS / ETC:

PREFERENCE POINTS = YES | TAG SURRENDER = YES (POINTS NOT REINSTATED) | FRONT TAG FEE = NO | POINT PURGE= 2 YRS minimum age to hunt: 10 by the end of the hunt that you applied for.

* Maine is home to the biggest Canadian moose found in the lower 48. Phenomenal hunting!

CANADIAN MOOSE 1 Tid	cket $15 3 Tickets $25	6 Tickets $35	10 Tickets $55

The draw for Maine Canadian Moose is different than any other state draw. You purchase "lottery tickets" at the time of application and the rate is: $15 for 1 Ticket / $25 for 3 tickets / $35 for 6 tickets / $55 for 10 tickets and you can purchase as many tickets packages as you want! From your first year of applying until year 5 you will receive 1 point per year. From years 6-10, you will receive 2 points per year. From years 11-15 you will receive 3 points per year. And after 16 years of applying, you will receive 10 points per year. This system is truly geared to give preference to those who are committed to drawing a moose tag in Maine. I have a couple phenomenal outfitters I work with so booking your hunt with the best of the best is not a problem. I consider Maine a state you simply must apply for if you have a Canadian moose on your bucket list. It truly is a world-class hunt.

Montana is a must-apply for state in terms of Rocky Mtn Bighorn, Mtn Goat, and Moose. They have some world-class hunting for all species and it is possible to draw on your very first year of applying. The cost is minimal upfront ($70/per species) to throw your name in the hat for these species and so it is highly recommended you apply for sheep, mtn goat, and moose. I have several very good outfitters that have great ranches where all you need is a general season deer, elk or deer/elk combo license to have a great hunt. Call, text, or email about these opportunities.

SILVER STATE TAGS	Deer $26.50	Elk $31.50 Anto	elope $26.50 I	Desert Bighorn $26.50

SilverState tags are governor tags allocated via lottery. Applicants may only purchase one ticket each for the price listed above. Winners can hunt from Aug 1 - Dec 31 anywhere hunting is allowed in the state and with any weapon.

Each and every year, some of the biggest deer, elk, and sheep taken in the West, come from Nevada. In addition, Nevada is a true bonus point state, so you are able to draw the best tag available on the very first year of applying. Since you do have to purchase a non-refundable hunting license to apply with bonus points, I encourage you to build points across the board for all species you have even the slightest hint of wanting to hunt someday. You've already taken the big bite by purchasing that license, you may as well build a strong portfolio every year by applying (or buying points) for the species Nevada has to offer. Anyone even remotely interested in hunting the very best that the West has to offer, needs to be applying for Nevada.

BONUS POINTS = YES | TAG SURRENDER = YES | FRONT TAG FEE = NO | POINT PURGE= 1 YR MINIMUM AGE TO HUNT: 16 (BY APPLICATION DEADLINE)

* If a Canadian Moose is on your bucket list, New Hampshire is a state that you absolutely must apply for!

CANADIAN MOOSE	Best Units	Trophy Units	Better Odds	Points Only
----------------	------------	--------------	-------------	-------------	--

New Hampshire is one of the only states that allows you to decline paying for the tag if you draw and do not or can not make the hunt. It is a mere $25 to apply each and every year for New Hampshire Canadian Moose and the tag itself if successful is only $500. New Hampshire is a true bonus point state and therefore you are eligible to draw a tag your very first year applying. I encourage anyone who wants to hunt Canadian Moose to add New Hampshire to your portfolio simply because it is a state that is cheap to play the game, there are better than decent draw odds, and the hunting is world-class.

Remaining balance is due 30 days prior of your scheduled hunt or earlier. Hunt prices vary and are dependent on outfitter pricing.

New Mexico is one of the best states to apply for across the West! World-class elk, mule deer, antelope, bighorn sheep, as well as the only state in the West to offer wild, free-range exotic species of Oryx and Ibex. In addition, no bonus points equates to a level playing field for everyone applying...meaning you can draw the best tags New Mexico has to offer on your first year applying! New Mexico requires you to front all the tag fees at the time of application, which quite honestly, can add up quickly...but it also means the draw odds are some of the best in the West! In addition, you can apply with an outfitter, increasing your odds of putting a world-class tag in your pocket. I work with the very best guides/outfitters New Mexico has to offer so if you are interested in applying with an outfitter, be sure and check the "outfitter draw" box above.

Blacktail and Roosevelt elk tags are available in Oregon, making Oregon a must-apply for state for anyone seeking their North American 29. While you do have to purchase a non-refundable hunting license ($160) every year to apply for Oregon, it is only $8 per application after that. So, you might as well apply for everything Oregon has to offer if you're going to jump in. Definitely a great state to add to your western hunting portfolio!

Utah is a must-apply for state for anyone wanting to build a strong western hunt application portfolio. Utah allocates their tags in a 50/50 split...meaning, 50% of the available tags are reserved for the applicants with the highest number of preference points for any given hunt, and the remaining 50% of the tags are allocated totally random. This means, you can draw the very best tags that Utah has to offer on your very first year of applying. After purchasing the $65 non-resident hunting license, it is only $10/per species to throw your name in the hat, making Utah one of the cheapest states in the West to apply for a wide-array of species! (Only non-residents are allowed to apply for all big game species Utah has to offer...residents have to choose only two species). Utah produces the biggest bulls and bucks annually, and is home to one of only two free-range buffalo herds found in North America. Anyone seriously wanting to hunt top-end animals, must apply for Utah!

There are two separate applications for Vermont Canadian Moose...one for the archery hunt, and one for the rifle hunt. You can build points for both weapon seasons. It is only $25 per season to apply, making Vermont a very affordable option to put a Canadian Moose tag in your pocket. Although there is not an official tag surrender program in place in Vermont, if successful in the draw, you have the option of purchasing the tag or declining it. Vermont does not produce the size of Canadian Moose as say Maine, but it is a phenomenal state to add to your portfolio if a Canadian Moose is on your bucket list!
